Moran Resigns as President of Savings Bank

Raymond G. Moran, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Bethel Savings Bank submitted his resignation to the Board of Trustees at the annual meeting on Wednesday, June 10, 1981. The effective date is June 30, 1981.

Mr. Moran came to Bethel in 1973 to assume the duties of Treasurer after 12 years experience as a commercial banker with the Hudson National Bank, the Framingham Trust Co. and the State Street Bank and Trust, all of Massachusetts. He was elected President and Chief Executive Officer of the Bethel Savings Bank in 1975, the year following the Bank's move into its new building on Main Street.

This was the beginning of rapid change in banking circles which was to develop into a complete revision of the State of Maine Banking Laws and a modification of Federal Law as well, all designed to equate the powers of financial institutions. Taking full advantage of the new authorization granted to thrift institutions to expand on customer services, Mr. Moran instituted programs of checking, NOW accounts, consumer loans, and more recently, commercial loans. As a result, the Bank experienced a period of unusual growth which saw its assets double during his tenure of office. At the same time, the Bank expanded its area of service by opening a branch in Harrison in 1978.

In addition to his duties as President, Mr. Moran has served as a Trustee and Corporation and as a member of the Executive Committee of the Savings Bank Association of Maine during his eight years association with the Bethel Savings Bank.

Citizens Honored at 13th Annual Awards Banquet

At Tuesday evening's annual awards banquet which is sponsored each year by the Greater Bethel Chamber of Commerce, Roger Conant, Maxine Brown, Jim Brown, Becky Davis, Tim Wheeler, and the Bethel Area Health Center received commendations for their respective outstanding community service. The banquet was held at the Bethel Inn and Joe Perham primed the audience with some humorous vignettes of typical Mainers from around Bethel and West Paris.

Telstar Regional High School Principal Warren Bouchard presented the 1981 Student Citizenship Awards, a certificate and a $50 savings bond, to Becky Sue Davis and to Timothy Wheeler.

The third annual Business Award went to Jim Brown of Brown's Variety Store. It was presented to him by Margaret Joy Tibbets who spoke of all the excellent qualities and characteristics, those that people imagine as going into the make-up of an ideal Maine shopkeeper, that Jim Brown has demonstrated over the many years as partner and then owner of the Variety Store.

As a special award to a Bethel area organization which has profoundly benefitted the community, Cathy Newell presented a plaque to the Bethel Area Health Center. Mrs. Newell noted that in 1978 a group of determined citizens succeeded in organizing the Center and have seen it develop into a valuable community asset despite the widespread skepticism of many older residents who had seen previous efforts founder.

Maxine Brown received this year's Senior Citizen Award which was presented by Barbara D. Brown, the committee's chairperson. In the presentation, among her other contributions to better community life, the lasting value Maxine had imparted for many, many years to the children in her classes at the Bethel Bisbee School was recalled.

Roger Conant received the Henry H. Hastings Award for Citizenship for 1981 for his involvement in many community activities, particularly those devoted to the town's youngsters. Roger has given, in an almost completely unnoticed way, much of his time to Cub Scouts and Little League besides working for Rotary Club projects, permanent secretary of the Bethel Area Development Corporation and an avid supporter and past officer of the Chamber of Commerce.

S-COME ON!

TING JUNE 26

Northwest Bethel

—Clarice Gibson, Corres.—

Last week we had quite a little rain but also had enough sun so that everything is just bursting (or as the song says June is bursting out all over). Of course, this also brings the weeds. The peonies, cream and red, are beautiful, and the mock orange has started to come out. I always like it when blossoms because it is so fragrant. We have some later blooming lilacs, as they are over by the woods, and one day last week as I walked by the double purple ones, almost every flower had a monarch butterfly resting on it. These large yellow and dark brown butterflies with their wings outstretched on the lilac were a sight. I tried counting them but they would start flying before I could get to them all. The weekend was just ideal. It wasn't too hot to work outdoors but still was warm enough to laze in the sun if one wished, although, parts of Sunday looked like rain, it didn't materialize until the night.

Mrs. Frank Murphy had Melissa Borowski for the week end and Melissa's aunt, Doreen Teller, of Berlin, N. H., also stayed to help. They left Sunday morning. Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy had a barbecue and guests were Priscilla Murphy, Gorham, N. H., and Rhody Sprague with children, Vicki and Dusty, of Oregon.

Robert and Linda Howe had her parents, Edward and Sylvia Fontaine of Mexico, Sunday for a la-sagna dinner.

Amy Hannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon, was a dancing flower in one of the routines they had at the Ethel Bisbee Circus.

The lupins by Mrs. Evelyn Hillborn's house make a beautiful blue and rose colored cover by the side house and out back.

Randy Wilson stayed Friday and Saturday night with his friend, Andy Smith, at Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith's.

John Laban began his vacation this week and will be shearing sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Brown are painting their house. Don and Arlene Brown, Harry and Barbara Kuzky, called on the Browns one evening. Pat Riley of Portland visited her aunt, Mrs. Althea Brown and Stan, Saturday, and had lunch.

Mrs. Althea Brown went to Locke Mills School Monday and showed slides on Alaska.

Sheri Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, graduated Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine and children, Ernest and Alberta Angevine, and Judy Coolidge, Sarah and Jessica, went to graduation exercises and Kristy Angevine played in the band.

Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine, Sheri, Kristy and Timmy, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Angevine had supper at a restaurant in Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura, Jody, Kurt Brown, and Jolene Andre helped Mr. and Mrs. Billy Shimamura and Justin move to their new place in Odsfield. They all had a cookout after.

Debbie Seames helped at the horse show at Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy's Saturday. Dawn Seames rode on Sybil and Melinda Mason also rode.

Gerry Shimamura, Jody, and Thelma Merrill, went to Awards Night at Telstar on June 9. Jody won an award as Most Versatile Student.

Elwin Wilson of Orono came Friday afternoon to visit his sister, and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham, and had supper.

Macki Chapman has started work in the kitchen at Bethel Inn. Macki, Howard and boys will be spending time at her grandmother's, Ada Balentine's.

Mrs. Sylvia Benson went to Hebron Wednesday to visit her mother, Mrs. Alice Foss.

Saturday, Frank and Sylvia Ben-

NOTES FROM Evans Notch

White Mountain National Forest

Trail maintenance efforts are in full swing, with the Spruce Hill trail to Speckled Mountain recently being reopened. Trail crews led by Joe Taylor, Ted Gardner, Doug Blodgett and recently Randy Littlefield, will continue to work on blowdown removal on the District's 170 plus mile trail system. The Appalachian Mountain Club, Chatham Trails Association, and the Forest Service have combined efforts to ensure area trails are passable and safe as soon as possible. Up-to-date trail conditions can be obtained by contacting the District office.

On Sunday, June 23, District Ranger Mark Boche will present an update of blowdown salvage and trail clearing efforts at the AMC's Cold River Camp at 7:30 p. m. The public is invited to attend.

Don Feeney has returned for his 13th summer working with the Evans Notch District. This year, as in years past, Don will be a backcountry patrolman performing such duties as visitor information, light trail maintenance, and law enforcement.

Caution continues to be emphasized for those who travel the area roads. The heavy traffic of logging trucks associated with salvage operations requires extra care and to drive defensively. The Deer Hill Road will remain closed until logging operations have been completed, and users of State Highway 113 are encouraged to drive with their lights on for safety.

The Evans Notch District office will now be open on Saturdays and Sundays from 7:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. Public information and permits will be available at those hours. Regular business hours are Monday through Friday, 7:30 to 4. Information can be obtained by calling 824-2134 or stopping in at the office on Bridge Street.

The Old Go Shoes feel a bit lousy this morning, but they have to get off the hook tomorrow. Let's see where have those Go-Shoes been this past week? On Sunday, June 7, the Go-Shoes took a ride up to Ketchum, the ski village, and then out to the ice cream place. Then on Wednesday evening they went to a bridal shower for Pam Carter at Myrna Carter's home. Besides the schoolmates she had her mother, two grandmothers, a mother-in-law, and a great grandmother, the Go-Shoes. Beat that if you can. All hands had a good time. Then Saturday night they went to Bear River Grange.

Callers at Joe and Eva's Sunday, June 7, were Peggy Blake, Dorte Becker, local; Verna Swan, Christopher and Benjamin Hoyt, of Bryant Pond. Miss Becker left Sunday, June 14, for Connecticut.

Greenwood City

—Mrs. Collista Morgan, Corres.—

It is worth while to wake early during these days, because of the dawn chorus. There are the singing notes, the bell notes, the teasing notes and many small utterances.

It is hard to pick out the individual songs because the whole yard is ringing. Then as suddenly as it arose, it begins to subside. From out back came the song of a thrush, a singer that makes a cathedral wherever he lifts his voice.

This was a cloudless day and the hills were green, the countryside shimmering in the sun light. Just the day to go over the hills and far away. A breeze, moving like a coolness than a stream of air, passed down the valley. So Ruth, Fay and I took advantage of it. We took the car and left it near the Norway line to walk that side of Patch Mountain.

The road ran through the deep forest most of the way. The harmony of the trees like organ music fingered among the arches of the trees. Every leaf had its own tongue.

The squirrels ran and snickered at our approach, or mocked the solitude with their chattering and fisking, talking to all the universe at the same time.

We heard a sharp yipping sound and saw mother partridge with her brood, then heard her wing her way past, and after that, there was perfect silence. At three different places this happened before we left the forest.

We crossed a few streams where banks narrowed and grew rocky, as the stream bed curved then widened again. In places there were close growing trees with undergrowth beneath and patches of sunlight. The water slid with shifting, broken patterns around the rocks.

Each year that we pass the first old farm house we notice that a bit more destruction has been done.

There were many wood cutting operations along the way. After going up the hill we took the road to Furlong Pond and continued until we came to it.

He who owns the one and only camp there certainly is in seclusion.

Here we were acutely conscious of the mosquitoes, thirsting for our blood, the ubiquitous little brutes, sang their monotony in our ears.

A flash of pink caught my eye; a lovely color against the muted green of moss, in perfect form and color. A gorgeous bloom. I hoped my camera had captured on film the hues, my eyes and brain had recorded of this lovely Lady's Slipper. These should remain in their native haunts and ministry to solitude, an array of purest pink treasures both beautiful and rare. Also close by were the exquisite pink twin-flowers, with shining leaves, and delicious perfume.

The pond was like a gleaming silver platter at the end of a table. On a limb over the water sat a hawk either just viewing the scene or looking for food.

Several times I heard the "Wheeeep" of the northern crested flycatcher. He is usually a solitary bird or a single pair keeps guard over considerable territory. "A winding road climbs so high. Atop a summer hill. Where breezes gently blow and play. Within the peace and still. Somehow my cares then quickly fade. As I forget life's load. For dreams then fill my heart and mind. I love a country road."

Garnett Ann Schultz

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sime, Gray, called on us Thursday evening. She was a classmate of mine at Gould. Other callers were Mrs. Lucy Bragg and son, Tommy, West Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mundy, Sylvia Luxton, Bethel; Ruth Hastings, South Paris.

Several attended the Telstar graduation from here as there were four graduates; Karen Hakala, Sandra Kuwaja, Brenda Millett, Martin Morgan.

A small boy was drowned while swimming near the dam Saturday evening.

Doris Hayes attended the Alumni banquet at West Paris Saturday evening.

Ardell Hayes, Auburn, visited his mother on Saturday. Duane Hayes and children were there Sunday evening. On Sunday afternoon Doris Hayes went to Gray to see her son, Glenn, and family.

My sister, Annie Mills, who has been ill for two years passed away June 14. Of her we say "Our dear and treasured memories of you, will bring some comfort each day. For we'll hold your picture in our hearts That will never fade away."

THIS WEEK AT ETHEL BISBEE SCHOOL

The Ethel Bisbee School Circus was a success! The children put on a great show with acrobats, clowns, lion tamers, lions, bears, trained poodles, monkeys and gophers, complete with daring acts! There were water balloon fights, pies in the face and water guns. The children used their many talents to entertain. In between performances the children enjoyed a penny carnival. Games made by parents and teachers were played. A popcorn machine, drinks and circus music helped make a more enjoyable day.

Late in the afternoon, a boy and a girl were winners of prizes made by Mrs. Kathy Cummings and Floyd Keniston. Victor Hart won a wooden toy truck made by Mr. Keniston. Emily Keyes won the Raggedy Ann doll and clothes made by Mrs. Cummings.

Many parents, children, teachers and friends helped make this an unforgettable day. Our deepest thanks to all involved.

More equipment has arrived from the Campbell's Labels for Education Program.

The children collected over 500 points in the Post's Fun for Fitness program. Baseball bases and a playground ball have been ordered.

Deven Andrews has finished the fence around the barnyard for the Campbell ponies. He did a beautiful job. He also rocked around the Bridlepath and a butternut tree near the yard and filled in my lawn next to the rocks he placed around the yard. It is seeded and the grass is coming up well, making a better looking lawn. Many thanks, Deven.

MOLLYCOKETT DAY FESTIVAL IN BETHEL ADDS MUSIC

"The best musical talent to perform at the Rotary's Western Maine Music Festival on Mollycokett Day, Saturday, July 18, in Bethel will win a chance to cut a complete record, five hours in a recording studio," says Joe Robiller, music festival committee chairman. Recording will be done at the Outlook Recording Studio in Bethel.

This year the Bethel Rotary Club has added a musical note to the annual Mollycokett Day celebration on the town's common. Set to start at 4:30 p. m., the musical element of this year's event is expected to last until late in the evening. In addition to the music festival, there will be bike races, auction, chicken barbecue dinner and a large variety of booths and exhibits.

Robiller says that he has already signed up three blue grass bands plus other duos and singles but is on the search for more performers. He says, "We have a number of inducements besides the first prize such as each performing unit will get $5 of gas; all contestants are eligible for a free chicken barbecue dinner; and the second place prize is a two hour recording session, enough to complete a demonstration tape. Trophies will be awarded for the best overall performer, best vocal and best instrumental."

Each performing group or single will have 20 to 30 minutes for their respective programs according to the committee spokesman. Candidates can contact Robiller at the Boiler Room Restaurant by calling Bryant Pond 100; callers must dial the operator and ask for the Bryant Pond exchange; or they may write to Joe Robiller, Rotary Music Festival, Bethel, Maine 04217.

"SNOW WHITE" IN BETHEL
FRIDAY-SATURDAY, JUNE 19-20

The Children's Dance Theater of Bethel will be presenting "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" on Friday afternoon and Saturday evening, June 19 and 20, at Telstar Regional High School Auditorium. Snow White, played by Mary MacKay, and the other characters in the original fairy tale will all come alive to the beautiful "Snow White" music and choreography of dance instructor, Michelle Farrar Keyes. The story will include Snow White's banishment from the palace by her wicked step-mother, the queen; her night alone in the forest and her awakening to find a host of forest friends, who take her to the home of the seven dwarfs. There she sets to work cleaning their house and after the seven little men come marching home, she charms them with her cooking and housekeeping so they ask her to stay. All goes well until the wicked queen, disguised as a witch, brings Snow White a poisoned apple. Snow White falls into a deep sleep and the whole forest grieves for her, but all is joyous once more when the handsome prince awakens her with a kiss and she leaves with him for a lifetime of happiness.
